  - a. Pollinator Program, Hope and Unity CG (Kimberley) Kim provided an overview of Seeds of Diversity and its relationship with Canadian Organic Growers and the Heritage Seed Program. Due to the link of pollination and seeds – the Pollinator – Food Hedge Program developed to increase biodiversity around the garden. They worked closely with Jeremy and Harriet at the Hope and Unity Garden at the Salvation Army church last year creating their Food Hedge AKA “Fedge”. This would be a great site to host an event to increase awareness of biodiversity and the food hedge. Ideal time would be in July or August.
